THE FINANCIAL STATE OF CALIFORNIA

A new analysis of the latest available audited financial reports found California has a Taxpayer Burden™ of $22,000, earning it an "F" grade based on Truth in Accounting's grading scale.

Despite Gov. Jerry Brown touting surpluses, California faces a $269.9 billion shortfall, which equates to a $22,000 burden for every taxpayer. Most of the state's overall debt comes from contractually protected pension benefits and retiree health care costs. Of the $461.3 billion in retirement benefits promised, the state has not funded $102.5 billion in pension and $107 billion in retiree health care benefits.

California's financial condition is not only alarming but also misleading as government officials have failed to disclose significant amounts of retirement debt on the state's balance sheet. Residents and taxpayers have been presented with an unreliable and inaccurate accounting of the state government's finances.

Here's the truth:

CALIFORNIA FINANCIAL BREAKDOWN

FAST FACTS

- + California has $100.1 billion available in assets to pay $369.9 billion worth of bills.
- + The outcome is a $269.9 billion shortfall and a $22,000 Taxpayer Burden.
- + Despite reporting most of its pension debt, the state continues to hide $58.4 billion of its retiree health care debt.
- + California's reported net position is inflated by $16.7 billion, largely because the state defers recognizing losses incurred when the net pension liability increases.
